

Rehearsal & Production Code of Conduct

We want Swan Theatre to be a “space” where creativity and teamwork come together.

Every cast, production team and committee member, has a role to play in making the rehearsal and performance space safe, respectful and fun.

Our Values

Respect: We treat everyone with dignity and respect.

Support: We encourage each another.

Collaboration: We work as a team and create together.

Inclusion: Everyone belongs, everyone matters.

Responsibility: We are accountable for how we behave and for the impact we have on others.

In Practice

We respect personal space and boundaries.

We give and accept direction in good spirit.

We give feedback constructively and receive feedback in good faith.

We are punctual, prepared and ready to contribute.

We raise concerns early and respectfully.

If Something's Not Right

Talk to the director.

Or contact the Swan committee production “buddy”

You'll be heard respectfully and confidentially.

Together we create a rehearsal and performance space that is safe, supportive and enjoyable.
